1. Introduction

- 1.1 Southside Housing Association (SHA) want everyone to have the same opportunities, irrespective of their background. We are committed to ensuring that anyone who wants to access the services we provide are able to do so by removing any barriers or obstacles which may prevent them accessing or obtaining the full benefit of our services.
- 1.2 We want to ensure that our tenants, other customers, our employees and volunteers and anyone who provides or receives a service from SHA are treated fairly and with dignity and respect.
- 1.3 We also want to eliminate any discrimination, either directly or indirectly, against any individual on the grounds of sex, race, disability, age, religion or belief, gender reassignment, sexual orientation, pregnancy and maternity, or marriage and civil partnership.
- 1.4 As a key and visible organisation within the communities that we serve we want to promote Equality, Diversity, Inclusion and anti-discrimination in everything that we do. This includes in our service delivery, the influence we have with stakeholders, partners and contractors, and in the recruitment and retention of our employees.
- 1.5 As an organisation involved in public procurement, we also want to use our spending power to promote equality and good relations between protected characteristics in the way we procure services and contractors.

2. Purpose of this Policy

- 2.1 This Policy describes how Southside Housing Association (SHA) will promote equality, diversity and inclusion in our service delivery, and in the management of our organisation.
- 2.2 It also aims to ensure that an understanding of equality, diversity and inclusion is integrated into all aspects of SHA's activities, and to ensure that tenants and other customers, employees, volunteers, contractors and other partners are treated with fairness and respect, and that they also treat others with fairness and respect.
- 2.3 The Policy addresses the legal and regulatory requirements we must meet, and how we will translate our own mission and values into tangible outcomes that will benefit our customers, communities and employees.
- 2.4 Through this policy we also want to promote and sustain a culture of dignity, fairness and equality of opportunity both in terms of the services we provide and the working environment our employees operate in. We recognise that people work best in, and are attracted to organisations, both as employees and customers, which allow them to be comfortable being who they are.

3. Key Definitions

- 3.1 Equality – Equality is not about treating everybody in the same way but recognises that their needs are met in different ways. Equality focuses on those areas covered by law and described in the Equality Act 2010 as ‘Protected Characteristics’ which are set out below.
- 3.2 Diversity – Diversity is about valuing individual differences to allow everybody to contribute and realise their potential. Diversity is also about recognising that individuals from a wide and varied range of backgrounds can bring different experiences, perspectives, and skills can contribute new or fresh ideas. Diversity is also about being able to be comfortable in being yourself.
- 3.3 Inclusion - Inclusion means creating an environment where everyone feels welcome and valued, whether in their workplace or in their everyday life.
- 3.4 Protected Characteristics – The Equality Act 2010 introduced a range of characteristics which have special protection under Equality law. Every individual has at least one or more of these Protected Characteristics. The Nine Protected Characteristics set out in the Equality Act 2010 are:
- Age
 - Disability
 - Gender Reassignment
 - Marriage and Civil Partnership
 - Pregnancy and Maternity
 - Race
 - Religion and Belief
 - Sex
 - Sexual Orientation
- 3.5 Discrimination
- 3.5.1 Direct Discrimination – Less favourable treatment of an individual or group, on account of a protected characteristic. An example of direct discrimination may be where an employer refuses to employ someone because they have an impairment which had not relevance to the job which they have applied for.
- 3.5.2 Indirect Discrimination – When an apparently neutral requirement or condition impacts adversely or has a disproportionate effect on a particular group. An example of this could be a policy practice or procedure that applies to everyone in the same way but might disadvantage a particular group and which cannot be objectively justified in relation to it.
- 3.5.3 Associated Discrimination – Direct discrimination against someone because they are associated with another person who possesses a protected characteristic. For example, a non-disabled person is discriminated against because they have care responsibilities with regard to a disabled person.

3.6 Harassment

3.6.1 When a person engages in unwanted conduct, which is related to a protected characteristic and which has the purpose or effect of i) violating the dignity of another person, or ii) creating for that person an environment an intimidating, hostile, degrading, humiliating or offensive environment. An example of harassment might be displaying a sexist calendar on a wall where this makes the workplace an offensive place to work for an employee. The intention of the perpetrator is irrelevant, it is the impact on the individual which determines whether harassment has taken place.

3.6.2 Harassment by a third party – An employer is potentially liable for the harassment of their staff or customers by people they do not themselves employ e.g. a contractor or consultant.

3.7 Victimisation – Occurs when someone faces discrimination because she or he has made an allegation of unlawful discrimination or because of assisting or supporting a complainant. An example of victimisation may be refusing to consider someone for a promotion because they gave evidence on behalf of a colleague who had made a complaint of unlawful race discrimination.

3.8 Positive Action – The Equality Act 2010 sets out two types of Positive Action which in certain circumstances are permissible.

3.8.1 General – Where persons who share a protected characteristic suffer a disadvantage or have different needs because of that characteristic, then action may be taken to help overcome the disadvantage or address the needs. The Equality Act sets out that any action must be proportionate.

3.8.2 Recruitment and Promotion – In this context an example may be addressing imbalances in the workforce or Governing Body by ‘positive discrimination’ to encourage individuals from underrepresented groups to apply for employment or positions on the Governing Body. Positive action may be applicable in setting equality targets aimed at encouraging people from a particular group or groups to apply for a vacancy, but not to set a quota.

3.9 Reasonable Adjustments – A positive change to remove or reduce the effect of an employee’s disability to do their job in the employment context. Reasonable adjustments relate more generally to positive changes to remove or mitigate barriers to customers accessing a service.

4. Legal and Regulatory Requirements

4.1 There are a number of key pieces of legislation in relation to Equality, Diversity and Inclusion and which inform this policy. SHA will meet all of its legal obligations as set out in the following legislation:

- The Equality Act 2010
- The Human Rights Act 1998
- The Scotland Act 1998
- The Housing (Scotland) Acts 2001 and 2010

- 4.2 Appendix 1 provides a commentary on each piece of legislation and what it means for SHA. This section of the Policy provides a brief overview of the Equality Act 2010 which is the key piece of equality law in the United Kingdom.

Regulatory Standards on Equality

- 4.3 The Scottish Social Housing Charter contains an Equalities outcome as one of the Charter's sixteen outcomes which social landlords must meet. The Equalities Outcome 1 of the Charter states that:

“Social landlords perform all aspects of their housing services so that every tenant and other customer has their individual needs recognised, is treated fairly and with respect, and receives fair access to housing and housing services.”

- 4.4 The Scottish Housing Regulator's (SHR) Regulation of Social Housing in Scotland: Our Approach (The Regulatory Framework) sets out the Standards of Governance and Financial Management and other Regulatory Requirements for social landlords in Scotland.

- 4.4.1 Regulatory Standard 5.3 sets out that:

The RSL pays due regard to the need to eliminate discrimination, harassment and victimisation, advance equality and human rights, and foster good relations across the range of protected characteristics in all areas of its work, including its governance arrangements.

- 4.4.2 Regulatory Requirement EH1 and EH2 also set out requirements and standards in relation to Equalities and Human Rights which social landlords must meet:

EH1 – Each landlord must have assurance and evidence that it considers equality and human rights issues properly when making all of its decisions, in the design and review of internal and external policies, and in its day-to-day service delivery.

EH2 – To comply with these duties, landlords must collect data relation to each of the protected characteristics for their existing tenants, new tenants, people on waiting lists, governing body members and staff.

- 4.5 The Care Inspectorate set National Care Standards for Housing Support, and these include:

Equality and diversity

Your right to:

- live an independent life, rich in purpose, meaning and personal fulfilment;
- be valued for your ethnic background, language, culture, and faith;
- be treated equally and to live in an environment which is free from bullying, harassment and discrimination; and
- be able to complain effectively without fear of victimisation.

5. Our Equality, Diversity and Inclusion Objectives

5.1 As part of our policy aims set out at section 2 of this policy and to illustrate SHA's commitment to embedding Equality, Diversity and Inclusion into everything that we do, we have established the following set of SHA's Equality Objectives:

- To eliminate discrimination and advance equality of opportunity for all, in our role as a housing provider and employer.
- To treat all of our customers and employees fairly and with dignity and respect.
- To value and respond appropriately to diversity in our communities and in our individual customers and staff members.
- To show zero tolerance of harassment and hate crime.
- To promote tolerance and community cohesion in our neighbourhoods.
- To comply with legislation and seek to meet best practice standards.
- To encourage our contractors and suppliers to promote equality, respect diversity and prevent discrimination.

5.2 To help us meet these objectives, SHA will:

- Require all of our staff and members of the Management Committee and Neighbourhood Committees, and the Board of our subsidiary Southside Lettings (Scotland) Ltd, to show a positive commitment to equality, diversity and inclusion.
- Develop good quality information about our customer base so that our services are accessible and responsive to all.
- Tailor our service delivery to meet the circumstances of individual customers, so that we provide good outcomes and equality of opportunity for all.
- Engage with, and seek feedback from, all sections of the community when we are developing or conducting a review of our key services.
- Seek to ensure that our governing body, management and workforce are broadly representative of the communities we serve.

5.3 The individual actions which we will take to deliver our Equality, Diversity and Inclusion Objectives will be set out in our Equality, Diversity and Inclusion Strategy and Action Plan for 2024 -2027.

6. Gathering and Using Information about our Customers and Staff

6.1 In delivering the objectives of this policy it is important that we know who our tenants and other customers, employees and volunteers are. Effective systems for collecting information and monitoring performance are a key part of this Policy, since good quality, accurate data helps us to achieve our objectives, identify gaps and barriers to equality, diversity and inclusion, and inform our service delivery to target our services where they are required and where they will bring the greatest benefit.

6.2 The Scottish Housing Regulator’s thematic inquiry “Use of Equality and Diversity Information by Scottish Social Landlords” recommends that social landlords should take the following actions:

- Use equalities data to help inform their understanding of the individual needs of their tenants and other service users;
- Consider whether satisfaction surveys – with the permission of the relevant tenants – could be used to gather specific information about the opinions of those with particular equality characteristics; and
- Use equalities data to tailor and target their approach to communicating with tenants and other service users.

6.3 SHA will address – and where necessary go beyond – these recommendations. SHA’s data collection systems will seek information about all nine protected characteristics, for the following groups:

- Governing Body members
- SHA Employees
- SHA Social Housing Tenants
- Applications and appointments of new SHA employees and volunteers
- Applicants for Social Housing

6.4 We will collect information from customers at the following stages:

- Governing Body Members
Through annual equalities profiling of Governing Body members
- Employees and Volunteers
Through successful applications for employment and from our employee engagement surveys.
- Housing Applicants and New Tenants
Housing application, housing offer or tenancy sign up, or settling-in visit.
- Existing Tenants
 - Through our three-yearly large scale Tenant Satisfaction Survey
 - Programmed bi-annual visits to all tenants.
- Advice Service Customers
 - At point of customer using service, we will collect data were provided to satisfy funding conditions where necessary.

- 6.5 In asking for co-operation, we will make clear that the customer can choose not to provide some or all of the information requested. We will also clearly explain the reasons for asking for the information and how it will be used, i.e. the data collected will help SHA to:
- Understand the needs of individual customers, so that we can provide a better service that meets the customer's needs.
 - Identify any areas of possible discrimination and plan our services in a way that meets our equality and diversity objectives.
 - Meet our legal duties to prevent discrimination and promote equality.

6.6 As part of our Equality, Diversity and Inclusion Action Plan 2024-27, we will review the effectiveness of our systems for collecting and analysing equalities information. This will include consideration of what improvements are possible as part of our commissioning of new software systems for housing management.

6.7 In collecting equalities data we will also have due consideration to the Scottish Federation of Housing Association's (SFHA) Collecting Equality Information: National Guidance for Scottish Social Landlords.

7 Policy Implementation and Responsibilities

7.1 The Management Committee is responsible for approving this Policy, and for overseeing its implementation including monitoring the progress of the Equality, Diversity and Inclusion Action Plan annually.

7.2 The Chief Executive Officer and Leadership Team have operational responsibility for policy implementation, and for reporting to the Management Committee the outcomes SHA is achieving, equality related trends in performance and service delivery including complaints, and any changes in SHA's legal and regulatory obligations.

7.3 SHA's Equality, Diversity and Inclusion Working Group has a responsibility for monitoring progress against the Equality, Diversity and Inclusion Action Plan, reporting progress to the Leadership Team, acting as an advisory board and Equality, Diversity and Inclusion champions within SHA, and delivering on the Group's Terms of Reference

7.4 All SHA employees and volunteers must always act in accordance with SHA's core values and ensure that this Policy is applied in practice. Failure to do so may result in disciplinary action.

7.5 Equality, Diversity and Inclusion awareness training will be delivered to all employees and volunteers as part of the SHA induction process, and refresher training will be delivered in a programmed basis.

7.6 SHA as an organisation will reflect our equality, diversity and inclusion objectives in everything that we do, as set out at section 2 of this policy.

7.7 SHA will produce an Equalities Action Plan to deliver on the objectives of this policy, normally covering a period of three years. This will:

- State our top priorities for development or improvement.

- Describe how these priorities will be implemented, and how success will be measured.
- Be reviewed annually by Management Committee, to assess the progress that has been made.

8. Assessing and Monitoring Equality and Human Rights Impacts

- 8.1 In line with our commitment and legal obligation to ensure we are delivering our services as a landlord and an employer equally and fairly, we will measure and monitor the impacts, both positive and negative, of our policies, proposals and services.
- 8.2 Regulatory Requirement EH1 within the SHR's Regulatory Framework places a requirement on social landlords to consider equality and human rights issues properly when making decisions, in the design and review of internal and external policies and in its day-to-day service delivery
- 8.3 SHA will measure the impact of our key policies, procedures and services upon protected characteristics through carrying out an Equality and Human Rights Impact Assessment (EqIA) as part of SHA's policy or service development and/or review programme.
- 8.4 Although the Public Sector Equality General Duty does not make an EqIA mandatory, an EqIA however is a very effective tool in measuring the positive or negative impact of our policies, services or other major proposals. This is important in recognising where our policies, proposals or services may directly or indirectly adversely impact a protected characteristic group or have unintended negative impacts.
- 8.5 Through this process SHA will decide whether to continue with a policy, service or proposal, or present mitigating actions to address any inequality or adverse impact found through the EqIA process.
- 8.6 SHA employees involved in the development or review of policies, proposals or services will have responsibility for completing an EqIA in relation to a particular policy, service or proposal.
- 8.7 Consideration and approval of the EqIA will normally be the responsibility of Management Committee or a Sub-Committee or other body with delegated authority to approve policies, services or proposals.
- 8.8 A revised specimen SHA EqIA template document is included at Appendix 2. of this policy.

9. Publicising Our Equality, Diversity and Inclusion Policy

- 9.1 In meeting our duties to promote equality we will ensure that this policy is widely publicised to tenants, other customers, employees, volunteers, contractors, partners and other stakeholders through our website, SHA Hub intranet page and social media platforms and in our day-to-day business activities.
- 9.2 A copy of this policy will be included in induction packs for new employees and volunteers and be made visible and available to visitors to our offices and on request.

9.3 Through this policy our commitments and expectations will also be communicated to contractors providing a service on behalf of SHA, and through our competitive procurement processes.

9.4 Communication

9.4.1 We are committed to removing barriers to customer accessing this and other corporate documents, whether those barriers are as a result of language, sensory impairments or other barriers to access.

9.4.2 We will consider providing documents in different formats on request, this includes in a different language, audio format, large type, easy read or other formats.

9.4.3 We will provide access to translation and interpretation services where an individual whose main language is not English requests this and where an individual does not have the translation or interpretation assistance of family or friends or it is not appropriate for them to do so.

9.4.4 We will not use children under the age of sixteen years as interpreters for family members when sensitive issues such as rent arrears, court proceedings or domestic violence are being discussed.

9.4.5 We will use our profiling data which we collect to inform how we communicate with our customers in the way they tell us they prefer.

10. Data Protection

10.1 Collection of personal data and equalities information about individuals employed by or receiving a service from SHA is a key commitment of this policy in informing our service delivery and ensuring that we are treating everyone fairly and not discriminating against any person with a protected characteristic.

10.2 Equalities data will often involve the collection and storage of sensitive personal data. This will be collected and processed in line with our obligations in terms of the UK Data Protection Regulation (UKGDPR), Data Protection Act 2018, the SHA Privacy Policy and our Fair Processing Notice. We will only collect and process sensitive personal data where we have the appropriate lawful bases for processing that type of data.

10.3 In monitoring equalities data wherever possible this data will be used in an anonymised aggregated way. Access to any individual's sensitive personal data will be strictly controlled and stored in a secure way as set out in the SHA Fair Processing Notice. This also sets out how and why we may share data and who we may share it with.

10.4 The SHA Data Retention Schedule sets out how long we will retain equalities data.

10.5 In terms of equalities data and Data protection we will also have due consideration to the Scottish Federation of Housing Association's (SFHA) Collecting Equality Information: National Guidance for Scottish Social Landlords

Appendix 1

Key Legislation Relating to Equality, Diversity and Inclusion

The Equality Act 2010

- 1.1. The Equality Act sets a UK-wide legal framework for protecting the rights of individuals and for advancing equality of opportunity for all. It replaced previous “stand alone” legislation on issues such as sex discrimination, equal pay, and disability discrimination and race relations to provide a single legal framework. The UK-wide Equality and Human Rights Commission (EHRC) publishes a range of statutory codes of practice as well as non-statutory guidance, to help ensure the Act is put into practice effectively.
- 1.2. The Equality Act uses the term “protected characteristics” to describe the groups that have legal protection from discrimination. The protected characteristics listed in the Equality Act are as follows, along with a brief description of each:

Age

Refers to a person belonging to a particular age (for example 32-year-olds) or range of ages (for example 18- to 30-year-olds).

Disability

A person has a disability if she or he has a physical or mental impairment which has a substantial and long-term adverse effect on that person's ability to carry out normal day-to-day activities.

Gender reassignment

The process of transitioning from one gender to another.

Marriage and civil partnership

Marriage is no longer restricted to a union between a man and a woman but now includes a marriage between a same-sex couple.

Same-sex couples can also have their relationships legally recognised as 'civil partnerships'. Civil partners must not be treated less favourably than married couples (except where permitted by the Equality Act).

Pregnancy and maternity

Pregnancy is the condition of being pregnant or expecting a baby. Maternity refers to the period after the birth and is linked to maternity leave in the employment context. In the non-work context, protection against maternity discrimination is for 26 weeks after giving birth, and this includes treating a woman unfavourably because she is breastfeeding.

Race

Refers to the protected characteristic of Race. It refers to a group of people defined by their race, colour, and nationality (including citizenship) ethnic or national origins.

Religion and belief

Religion has the meaning usually given to it, but belief includes religious and philosophical beliefs including lack of belief (such as Atheism). Generally, a belief should affect your life choices or the way you live for it to be included in the definition.

Sex

A man or a woman.

Sexual orientation

Whether a person's sexual attraction is towards their own sex, the opposite sex or to both sexes.

1.3. Under the Act, it is unlawful to discriminate against, harass or victimise another person because they have one or more of the protected characteristics. This applies to:

- How SHA - as an employer - treats our staff and people seeking employment with us, and
- How SHA – as a provider of housing and related services - treats anyone who receives or seeks access to our properties and services.

1.4. SHA must also comply with the general equality duty in Section 149 of the Equality Act. The duty applies to housing associations if they are carrying out what the Act terms “public functions”. The public functions carried out by SHA and other RSLs include matters such as the allocation of housing, transfer and exchange of properties, setting rent levels, complaints procedures, tenant participation, consulting and informing tenants, setting the terms of tenancies, the termination of tenancies, and dealing with antisocial behaviour.

1.5. When carrying out public functions, SHA has a legal obligation to:

- Eliminate unlawful discrimination (including direct and indirect indiscriminate and discrimination arising from disability), as well as harassment and victimisation;
- Advance equality of opportunity between people who share a protected characteristic and people who do not share it, and;
- Foster good relations between people who share a protected characteristic and people who do not share it.

1.6. The Equality Act is supported by the Equality Act 2010 (Specific Duties) (Scotland) Regulations 2012. RSLs are not listed authorities under the Regulations, so do not have an obligation to comply with them. There are a number of good practice areas that SHA will reflect in its policies and working practices where this can be achieved in a proportionate way, such as:

- Publishing this Policy and the associated Equality, Diversity and Inclusion Action Plan
- Assessing the impact of key policies and practices on different Protected Characteristic groups
- Gathering and using information about the profile of job applicants and of our staff in relation to development and retention.

Human Rights Act 1998

- 1.7. Good housing is a basic human need. It supports good health and opportunities for individuals and contributes to sustainable places and quality of life for communities.
- 1.8. The Human Rights Act 1998 provides for an individual to have the right to own and enjoy the ownership of property; the right to respect for private life; the right to respect for family life; and the right to respect for their home. The Act provides protection against discrimination with regard to any of these rights.
- 1.9. There are many aspects of SHA's role in providing housing and housing services that could be affected by the Human Rights Act. For example:
 - Housing allocations
 - Tenancy agreements
 - Housing conditions
 - Aids and adaptations
 - Rent arrears and other breaches of tenancy conditions
 - Anti-social behaviour
 - Relationship breakdown
 - Tenancy termination, successions and evictions
- 1.10. The Equality and Human Rights Commission has published a guide for social landlords on complying with the Human Rights Act. SHA employees will refer to the guide, as required.

Scotland Act 1998 and Housing (Scotland) Act 2001

- 1.11. Although Equality is reserved to the UK Parliament, the Scottish Parliament and Government also have powers to “encourage and promote” equality opportunities under the Scotland Act 1998. This is notable for two reasons:
 - Firstly, the Scotland Act uses a different (and in some respects wider) definition of equal opportunities than UK legislation

The Act refers to "the prevention, elimination or regulation of discrimination between persons on grounds of sex or marital status, on racial grounds or on grounds of disability, age, sexual orientation, language or social origin, or of other personal attributes including beliefs or opinions such as religious beliefs or political opinions."
 - Secondly, equal opportunities duties for RSLs are written into Scottish housing legislation

Section 106 of the Housing (Scotland) Act 2001 states that when providing housing and related services, "registered social landlords must act in a manner which encourages equal opportunities and in particular the observance of the equal opportunity requirements" set out in the Scotland Act.

Housing (Scotland) Act 2010: Scottish Social Housing Charter

- 1.12. The Scottish Government, through the Scottish Social Housing Charter (the Charter), sets standards and outcomes that all social landlords should aim to achieve when performing their housing activities.
- 1.13. The Charter took effect from 1 April 2012 and was revised in April 2017. It states the following obligations relating to equalities that all social landlords must meet:

- Performing all aspects of their housing services so that every tenant and other customer has their individual needs recognised, is treated fairly and with respect, and receives fair access to housing and housing services.
- Complying with equalities legislation.
- Understanding the needs of different customers and delivering services that recognise and meet these needs.
